Open House Scoping Meetings

The U.S. Navy invites you to participate in the National Environmental Policy Act process for the Hawaii-Southern California Training and Testing (HSTT) Environmental Impact Statement/Overseas Environmental Impact Statement (EIS/OEIS).

The Navy is preparing an EIS/OEIS to evaluate the potential environmental effects associated with conducting training and testing activities in the HSTT Study Area beginning in 2018.

You can participate in several ways:

- Find more information and submit comments online at: www.HSTTEIS.com
- View project materials in California at the Coronado, San Diego Central, or Long Beach public libraries, and in Hawaii at the Lihue, Kahului, Hilo, Kailua-Kona, and Hawaii State (Oahu) public libraries
- Attend an open house information session and submit comments
- Mail written comments to:

Proposed Action

The Navy proposes to conduct training and testing activities within the HSTT Study Area, including activities that involve the use of active sonar and explosives. Proposed activities are similar to the types of activities that have been occurring in the Study Area for decades. The Navy follows strict guidelines and employs protective measures while training and testing to reduce effects on marine species.

The Proposed Action is needed to accomplish the Navy mission to maintain, train, and equip combat-ready naval forces capable of winning wars, deterring aggression, and maintaining freedom of the seas.
